We assist you in developing an article/story to promote your business as native content which appears alongside our editorial features on meetingsmags.com or any of our regional websites.

Identify yourself as an industry leader using content similar to our own editorial. We insert the content into prominent editorial slots on meetingsmags.com and will also promote your content using social media and other methodologies to ensure your sponsored content is read.

HOW IT WORKS

>> We help you develop a compelling headline and story about your business/offering.

>> Our website helps brand your article to the Meetings + Events style, ensuring more exposure and making your content more appealing to our subscriber base.

>> Your content will be viewed on meetingsmags.com, instilling credibility with our thousands of monthly visitors each month.

>> Your content will be promoted on the website, through social media and also through content promotion platforms where we have made an investment.

>> Actionable information—you will receive a report of who viewed your content, for how long, along with commentary on what the information means for your business. You can also capture leads at the end of your content.

>> At the end of the article, your company’s information will be presented with a call to action for the reader to learn more about your business and services.

BENEFITS

>> You'll show market leadership and differentiate your business from your competitors.

>> Studies show that sponsored content performs stronger than traditional digital media.

>> The article will provide credibility to planners concerned about finding a reliable venue/vendor.

>> Your brand will be marketed in an engaging, specific way to planners.

STATS

>> Guarantee of 500 article views

>> Stays live for an entire year

COST

$2,800
IF YOU ARE CREATING THE ARTICLE:
1. Optimal length 300-400 words
2. Please provide multiple photos (800 x 640 pixels)
3. Please provide the URL for links
4. Provide author name, title, company logo
5. One-sentence company description (e.g. Loews Hotels is a leading provider of flexible meeting space in all major markets.)

Policy on thought leadership content vs. advertorial and article performance:
>> The goal of sponsored thought leadership pieces is to establish your authority and credibility in your field, and to provide information and advice that’s so valuable readers won’t mind that it’s sponsored.

>> The less this reads like an ad, the more likely it is to get read and shared, so write the piece in the first-person and keep references to your products and services to a minimum throughout the piece (or alternately, keep them in for the print version and let us strip some of it for the online version). Unlike in print, readers are only one click away from learning more about your products online, so you don’t need to include as much self-promotion, and keep readers on the page longer by breaking up large blocks of text within the article itself.

>> We don’t have the same space constraints on the website as we do in print, so we prefer to use more photos if possible, since images are key to getting readers to click on the web article, they help significantly with social media promotion and keep readers on the page longer by breaking up large blocks of text within the article itself.

>> If you decide to include your logo in the piece, we recommend that you keep it small—just hyperlinking your name at the top (“Sponsored by Mercer”) and in the sentence at the bottom of the article piece (e.g. “Mercer is a global consulting leader in talent, health, retirement, and investments.”) is usually better for this type of article so it reads more like editorial content and less like an ad.

IF WE ARE CREATING THE CONTENT
1. Allow 2-4 weeks for article creation
2. Please provide three article headline choices based on article topic
3. Article topic can be suggested by our team or by you
4. Please provide photos or source where we can acquire photos
5. Please provide logos, one-sentence company description and URL links
